

Co-Occurring Disorders: Ethics Person-Centered Approach

March 12th, 2021 | Virtual

DETAILS & LOGISTICS:

Dates: March 12th, 2021

Time: 9:00am—12:00pm EDT

Where: Virtual

Cost: Free

Contact Hours: 3 NAADAC

REGISTER HERE

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The goal of this project is to provide a standardized set of trainings and supervisory supports to service providing organizations that will: 1. improve outcomes for patients who have co-occurring disorders, 2. Improve organizational outcomes, staff morale, and organizational efficiencies.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND:

All persons who interact with patients, which may include intake staff, reception area personnel, drivers, maintenance staff, as well as professional staff.

PRESENTERS:

Anthony Estreet, PhD,
LCSW-C, LCADC,

Executive Director, Next Step Treatment Center.

Anthony is an experienced

client-centered therapist coupled with strengths in developing and delivering effective training.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

- Discuss and interpret selected sections of ethical codes (NASW, ACA, NAADAC, etc)
- Be familiar with and able to interpret and apply state and federal laws related to the provision of behavioral health services
- Discuss major ethical/legal principles and issues
- Understand the importance of developing a person-centered approach in behavioral health services
- Identify and utilize at least 2 ethical decision-making frameworks

Registration questions, training@danyainstitute.org 240-645-1145

The Central East ATTC is a program managed by the Danya Institute